She does what she is told. Reading out loud to your child helps the child to retain more information. And should those adventures not be exciting enough, she simply makes them up. As a child, Marieke Nelissen always loved to draw rainbows and strange, fantastical things. Be a part of an inspiring tale about Gobi, a lost dog who kept pace with an Ultra Marathon runner, Dion Leonard, across a vast desert. It's laughing so hard that it breaks. The illustrations are guaranteed to bring Lucky to life. She gets to meet the dog up for the kids between the age group of 7 and 8 we have two equally thrilling books in store. With time, the child can also take turns to read a sentence, paragraph, a chapter or simply a book, as .
