Such, I have long known, is the paradoxical law of all sentiments having terror as a basis. Now when, in proper order, all his ordinary manner had vanished. Thus, thus, and not otherwise, shall I be lost. I take the lighter strains first, because they spring more directly from the character of the age, and are a part of it. And it might have been for this reason only, that, when I again uplifted my eyes to the house itself, from its image in the pool, there grew in my mind a strange fancy—a fancy so ridiculous, indeed, that I but mention it to show the vivid force of the sensations which oppressed me. Even at that age, he recognized clearly the characteristics of French and of English literature, and became a partisan for the latter, in order to resist the French influence which was then so powerful in Germany.
