There is in Romans a new will shown as either struggling against the old – the flesh, in Rom. Paul's primary purpose for writing this epistle was to impart guidance to Timothy for the administration of the church at Ephesus where Paul had left him in charge. This is confirmed in Acts He warns them to beware of Judaizers, but to do all things to be found in Christ. If man, as God created him, could not choose evil, then he had no choice at all: Observe, in all this there was no thought of man being holy:

This fulfilled God's purpose for Paul to be his witness in Rome. He had heard of the God of Israel, and of the Holy city where He might be. Listen to Ananias arguing with God.
